Augusta High School

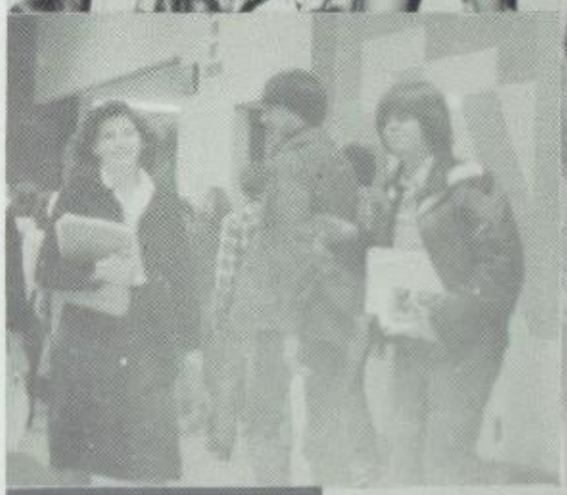
Volume 75

Who left this lying around???

Good thing I used my Old Spice!



Can you identify this cutie?

A scrapbook is more than pictures
A poem is more than rhyme
the memories of our era are forever held in time
by the careful preparation and effort by a few
to animate in senior style
the high school that we knew.

Cans of Mountain Dew strewn through bags of chips and dips,
bring back visions of long nights spent on boring trips.
Bussed to fight for Beaver glory
hoping to win the game
of volleyball or football
with dreams of statewide fame.

Weekend plans were endless, brief
spaces of free time, always interrupted by essays of countless lines written while awaiting that very special call during which the wish not spoken was
"If only he were tall!"

The best times you'll remember though are always with a friend whom you've known since kindergarten
as loyal to the end.
Shared laughs, dreams and promises
throughout the teen-age years have built a base of trust and love;
a support to fight life's fears.

A scrapbook is meant for memories pictures that will find the carefree, crazy high school scene living in your mind.

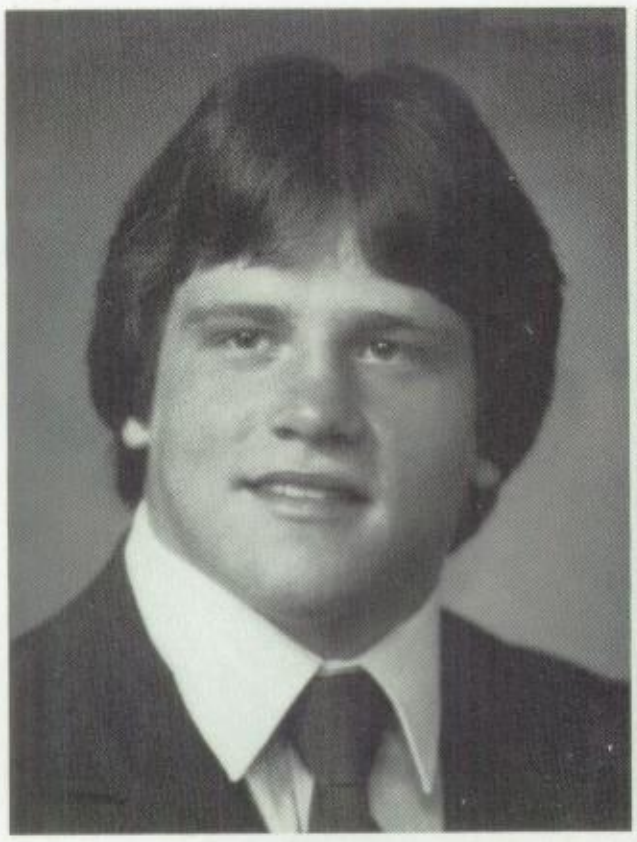
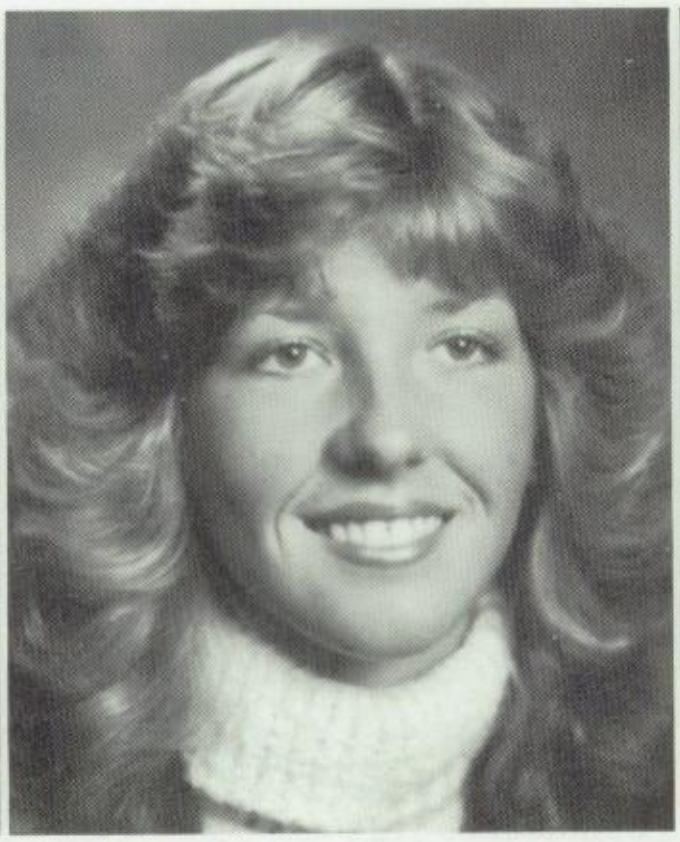
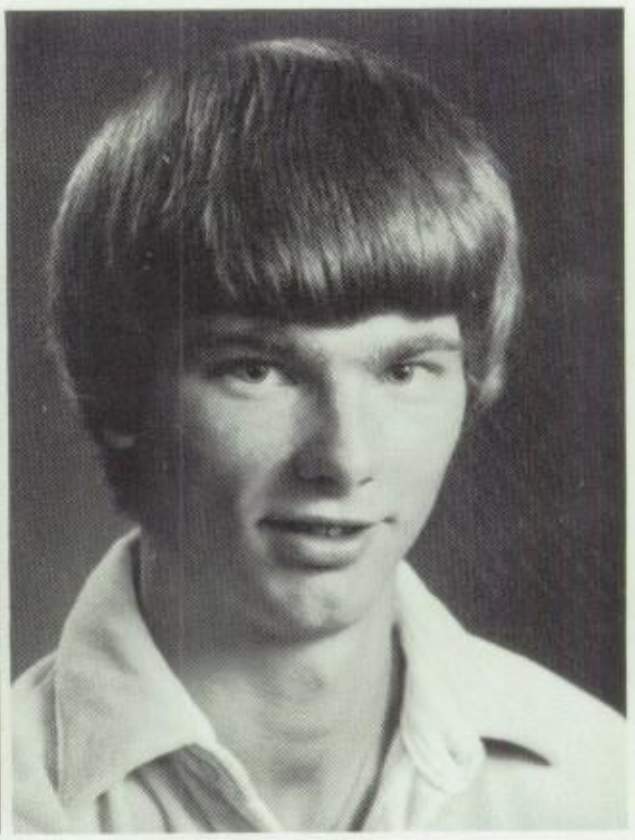
"SENIORS DEDICATION"



Donald Quick



Petra Braun



Dan Tyler

The 1982 Senior class dedicates this years Beaver Annual to the ones who have shared, grown, cared, cried, and laughed with us. Although these people have moved away from us; in our minds and hearts they will always be with us. Because of this, we dedicate the 1982 Beaver to Donald Quick, Daniel Tyler, and Petra Braun. Thanks for the times we shared and the memories we will always carry with us.

Donald Quick moved after his Junior year to Midland, TX. While attending Augusta High School, Don was active in sports, choir, and many other school clubs. In Midland, Donald had a very successful season playing football and keeping up with his old social habits.

Daniel Tyler moved at the end of our Freshman year to Spooner, WI. Dan also had a very busy high school life and social, also! Next year Dan plans on attending UWEC to major in (monkey) Business.

Petra Braun also moved at the end of our Freshman year to Eau Claire. She got a job soon after moving, and has put many hours in over the past few years. Petra joined many clubs and organizations at her new school.

Though these three people live away from us, they still have our SENIOR STYLE!!!

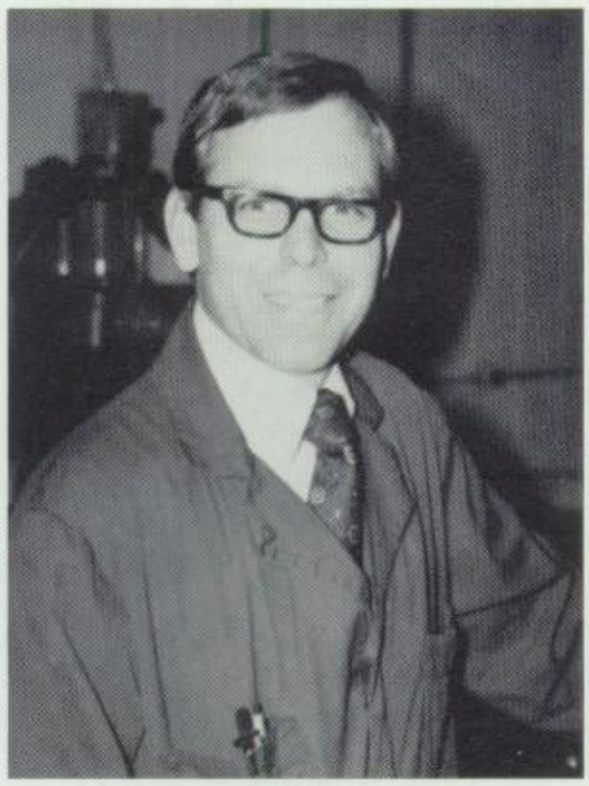
Technically Speaking

J. Buchholz worries about speed, efficiency and accuracy. Since '65 she's made typing live and has organized the effort sophomores give.

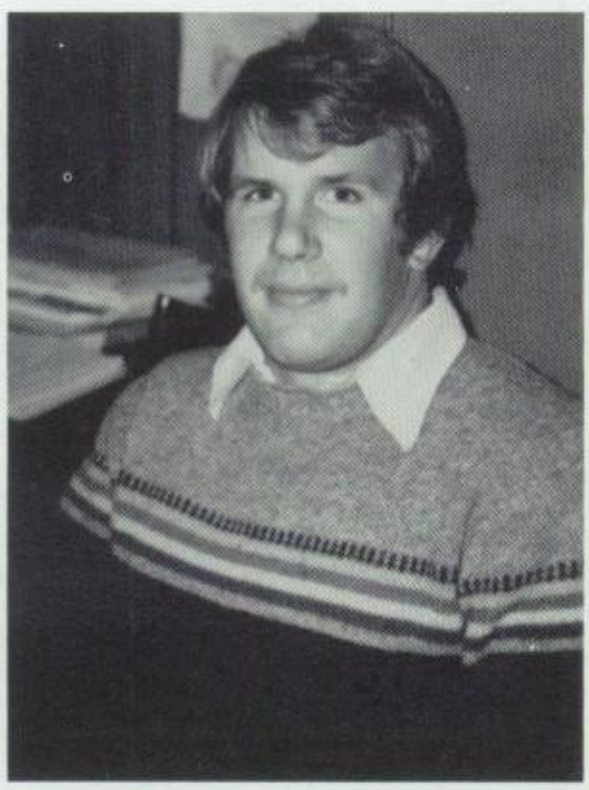
J. Rybak shows us how to cook, clean and babysit. '75 was her year to open the sewing kit.



D. Anderson. He is an auto expert and an engine mechanic. He came in '72 to train the capstone zoo.

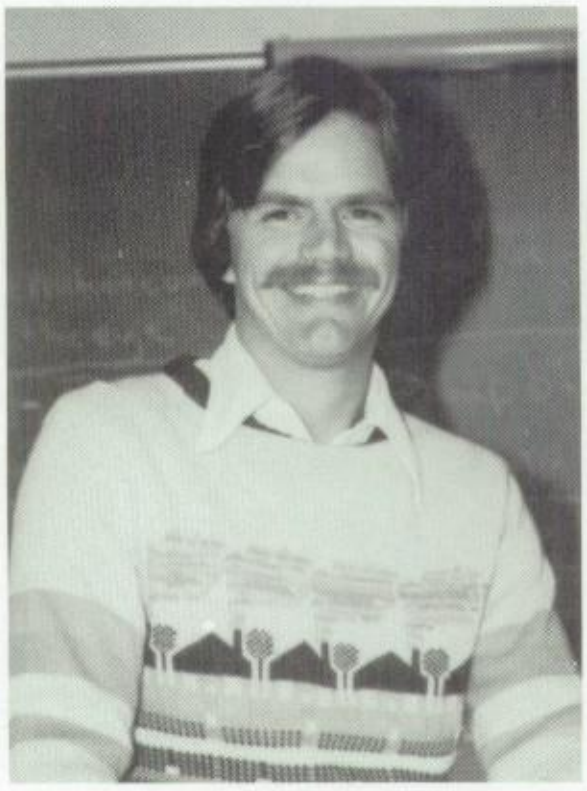
N: Blinkmen is a guy you never see even though he's been here since '73.

D. Rybak, Industrial Arts since '65, he makes mechanics come alive. Seller of candy, popcorn and pop, he's open for business if at concessions you stop.



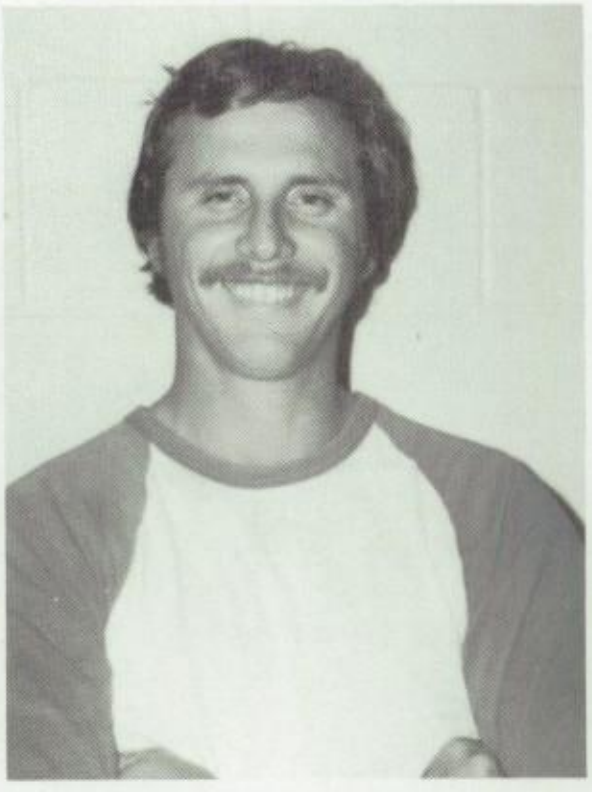
P. Tremaine had his first year teaching agriculture and FFA, and he learned a lot.

High School Dances to the Tunes . . .



J. Ganrude is into "Arts and Crafts" and controls the Junior activities. He came here in '79 and Gemini is his sign.

J. Skoug toots with flutes and enjoys being locked in the YMCA. '79 was the first year our band had her to fear.



S. Krueger won the Augusta "Color Coordinated Clothes" award. He came in '78 to teach Physical Education and Basketball Motivation.

J. Oestrich brought the "family" atmosphere back to our library. She was here in '79 to put our reference books in line.

T. Voss harmonizes and modulates with the choir. '80 was his year of questions now he's into tone inflections.

L. Diehl has spent twelve years terrorizing the 7th and 8th graders. But she has become a real "Mother" figure since we started 7th grade.

Of English and Grammar . . .

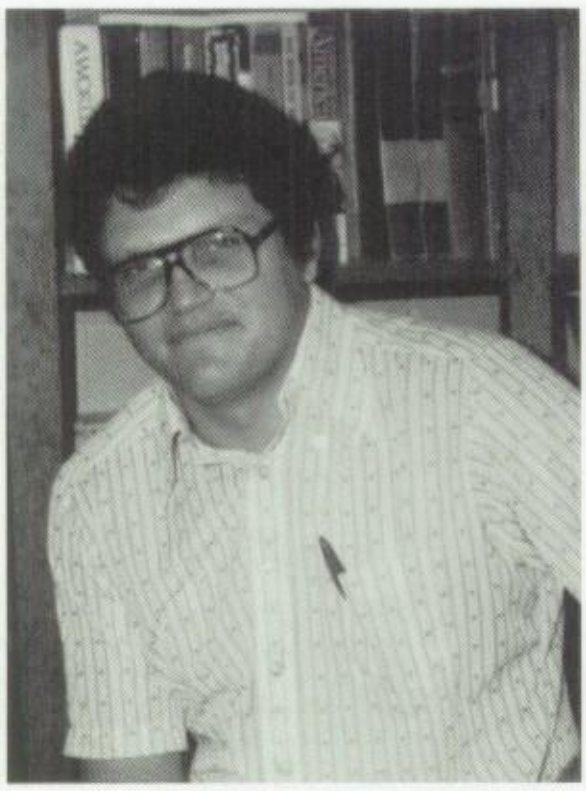
Y. Silvernail has taught English class for 17 years and is waiting for Zeus and Hera to appear. A fine lecturer, teacher and scholar, just watch out for the few times she'll holler.

J. Dykstra came to us and the "Empire Struck back" and gave her humor and energy to make up for the height and weight of which there is a lack.

D. Erickson has been here since '68 to teach freshman English without any shoes and her poor aching feet are always bad news.

K. Sell. Since '79 she's made the transition from Reading Coordinator to English position. Classical Novels, Seventh and Eighth are classes which hear her orate.

and History Loons.



T. Crowe deals in World History and football mystery. He came here in '73 and just put another stocking under his Christmas tree.

B. King knows all of the moves and holds. He's been on the wrestling mat since '78 and he taught American Problems kids to specualte.

M. Vandehey likes his girls tall and fast and ready to rebound! He's been pushing his weight up to 2-'74 and teaches sophomores to put the medal to the floor.

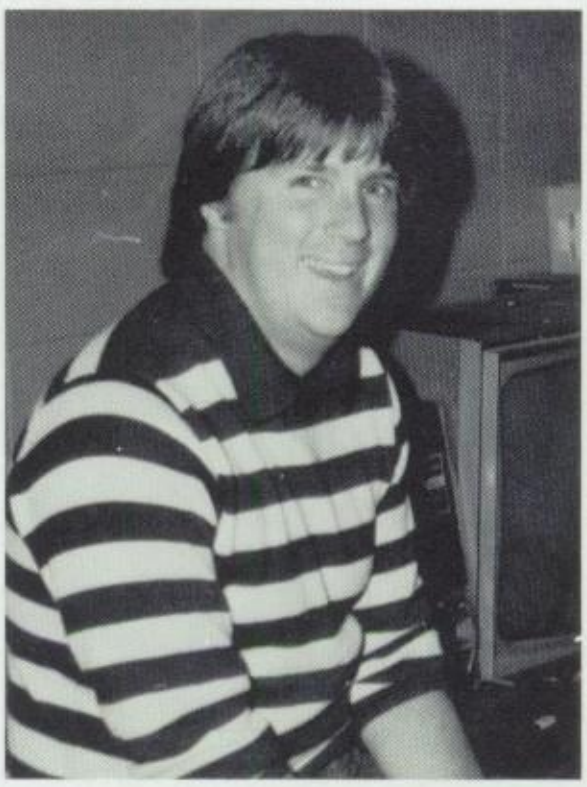
R. Henke. Henke-Panky was his function as a P.E. student teacher, and the senior girls learned a lot.

R. Anderson proves that "The Duke" still lives, if only in Augusta. Since '67 he's shown what he knows about history but the guy with a crewcut is still quite a mystery.

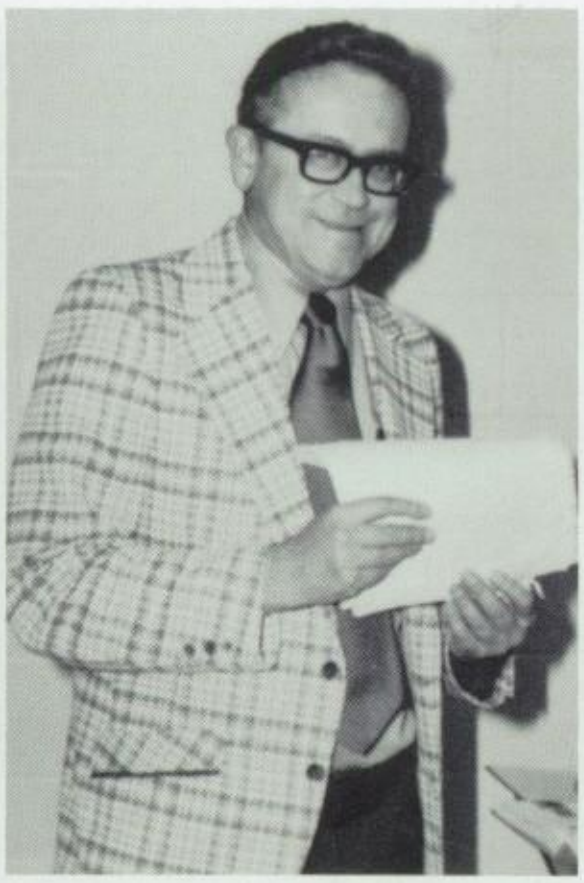
Science and Math Follow a Path, .

L. Osborn from Phy. Ed. to Biology to Freshman sexology she's been for 8 years our student of petrology.

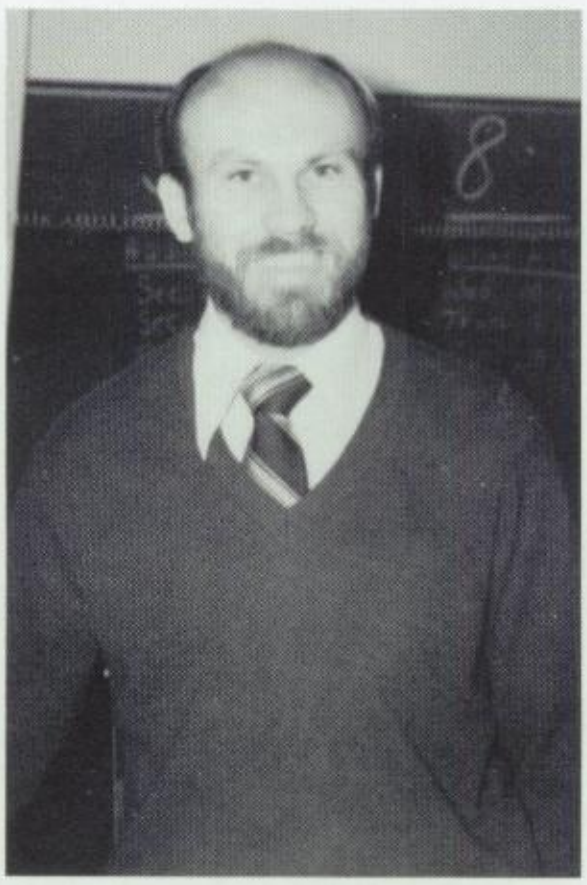
L. Granros A biological genius never accused of meanness has been a bundle of cheers for 14 years.



J. Jacobson called "The Young One" and lover of computers it's his second year of teaching "Basketball shooters."



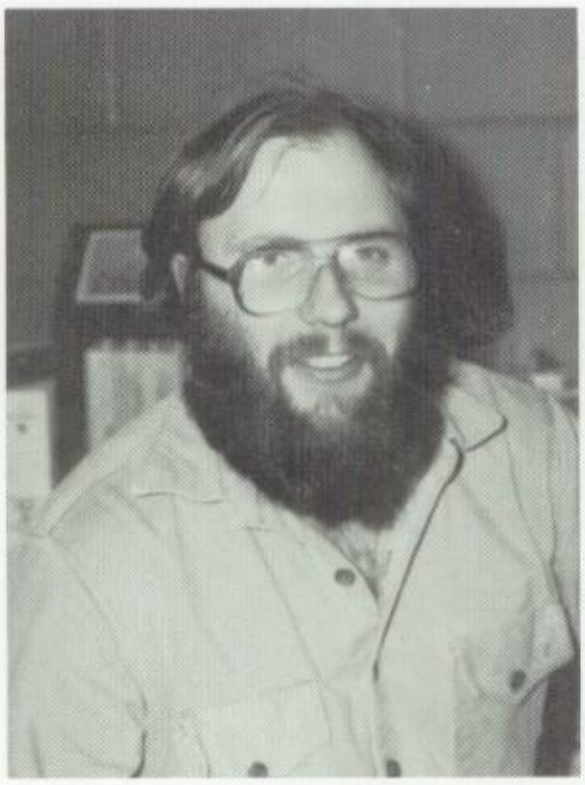
D. Jacobson called "The Inactive One" and lover of Physics, it's his 22nd year of Pre-Calculus limits.



M. Kardin he's taught Science and Chemistry for 7 years and gleefully waits until a solvent appears. His voice is quite thrilling, his manner alive, towards mole comprehension his students all strive.

E. Smiley has been here since '69 our math skills to realign. Her famous line, "A Decorated Room Makes Scholars Shine."

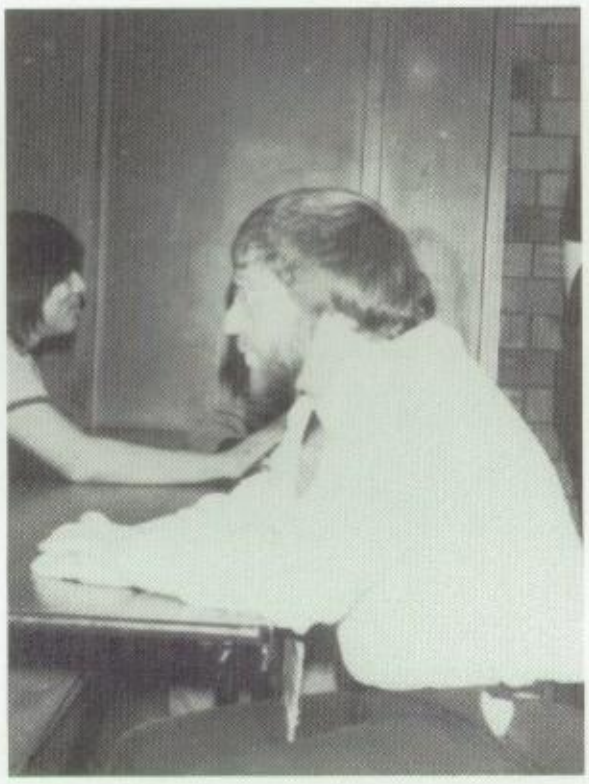
Guided and Led With Special Ed.

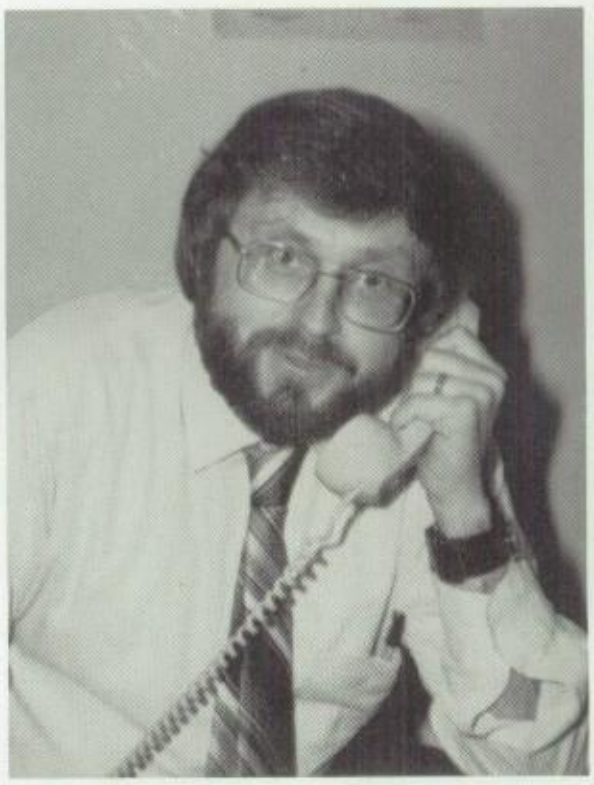


C. Forseth. Volleyball and fishing drives him wild. Since '77 he's the only teacher whose laugh is instantly recognized, and whose wacky sense of humor is always prized.

J. Hickey teaching Title 1 brought her down to size and started the wild and crazy life her name implies.

D. Fiene. When she came here in '78, her long brown hair was her greatest trait. She gave PZAZZ to the town and gives out popcorn by the pound.





D. Donovan has counseled and guided since '79, and tries to keep our schedules in line. He's sent dire warnings to colleges and techs, cause he's seen the wild ways of the kids they'll get next.

The juniors came in second place with their homecoming float and won the spirit jug. Plans for the junior prom progressed very slowly due to the lack of interest — almost causing prom to be cancelled. With a small nucleus of people under good leadership, prom was rescued.

Starting off the year with homecoming float building, the Sophomores did a typical "underclassman" job and did not win a prize. Their attendants were John Halvorson and Pam Peterson. Following homecoming, they enjoyed a lock-in at the "Y" with Miss Skoug. Just before Christmas they conducted a fund raiser selling posters, tag-a-longs and key keepers. Sophomores participate in sports, clubs and all the good (bad) things in school life.

This year, the freshman class survived with its ups and downs. Unfortunately, the senior class destroyed their dream of capturing first place for the float building competition during homecoming. They did hold, however, a successful magazine sale through the help of their advisors, Mrs. Oestrich, Ms. Erickson and Mr. D. Anderson.

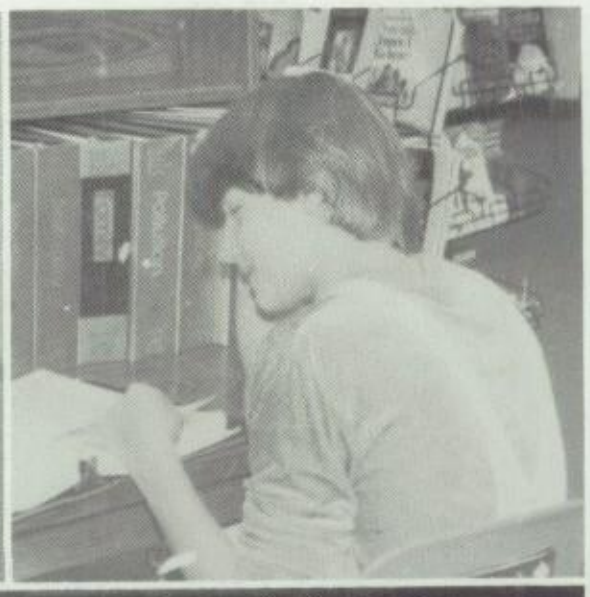
Will I Ever Get to High School?



After one year of experience in Jr. High, the eighth-graders finally figured out how things go. They sold soap to raise money for the Jr. High trip and were greatly involved in all school activities open to their participation.

The Story

T. Crowe, B. King, S. Krueger, and the six returning seniors led the Beavers to a rewarding 7-2 season. The hard hitting senior athletes were: Steve Ball, Jeff Kensmoe, Joe Perkovich, Marvin Schwoch, Scott Grams and Jason Wiese. Steve was the most valuable player and the best tackler for the "81" season. Steve carried the ball 99 times for 470 yards and made 10 touchdowns. Steve received the "Potty Mouth" award for a smart remark made during a game. Jeff Kensmoe was captain this year and during his high school football career he started 38 out of 40 games. Jeff received 11 passes for 184 yards and the "I wanted more passes" award. Joe came on strong this year completing 25 passes for 460 yards. Joe ran for 6 yards to make one touchdown and the "Dirty Sock" award. Marvin was the best blocker this year and was a dynamic force in the Beaver's defense. Marvin received the "12 oz. curl" award, (probably for his curly hair?). Scott kicked off the '81 season with 25 kicks for 904 yards. In his first year as a football hero, Scott received the "Shadow of former self" award. Jason letered for four years as the Beaver's best manager and trainer. He wrapped 300 ankles and 60 knees during his athletic career and received the "Jason Wiese look alike" award. We had a great season with a great team and we're proud of our guys!

The Story

The volleyball team was led by six seniors: Dana Dickinsen, Cindy Kiefer, Laurie Newgard, Theresa Schmidt, Rachel Solsrud and Bev Stensen. During an exciting season of many victories and just as many losses, they improved steadily throughout the year and eventually became one of the best teams in the state. They beat the undefeated conference champions after playing two tough matches against Alma Center Lincoln and Altoona. The Whitehall girls won the first game of the regional championship match, and things were looking bleak for the Beavers. But our girls never said "Die" and came back to crush the Norsemen. After the regional championship, the girls traveled to Pepin and earned third in the Sectional meet.

The 1981-82 girls basketball team acquired new basketball uniforms this year. With these suits of "style," the girls had a very flashy season. Newly acquired practice equipment helped this young team develop skills with the expert coaching of Mr. Michael Vandehey and Mr. Jeff Jacobson. This season proved to be a base for a neat season next year with all the girls receiving playing time.

Homecoming — 81

The 1981 Homecoming Dance was held on Friday, October 2. "The One That You Love," by Air Supply, was the theme.

The class of '82 received first place in the float-building contest. The class of '83 earned second place and the class of '85 took third.

The Junior Prom of 1981 was one of the most successful proms in years. The weather was rainy, but the turnout was phenomenal. The dance came to life with dark blue and light blue streamers as the couples floated to the theme "Love, Look What You've Done to Me." The juniors left with memories which were held in a poem written by Jason Wiese, "Love, Look What You've Done."

The class of '82 hopes future proms will be as enjoyable as ours!

"Could I Have This Dance"

The coldest day of the year caused many girls to fear that they couldn't take their guy to the winterball, sponsored by the senior class who worked for hours and hours and had not shirked any expense to make the dance the perfect place for romance. The colors were silver and blue and the attendants marched to "Could I Have This Dance." The students elected Tim Travis and Vickie Tallman as the King and Queen. The winterball was a highlight for these two as well as the senior class.

High Quiz Bowl was led by the star seniors: Jeff Kensmoe, Rachel Solsrud, and Jason Wiese. With television competition in March, our team did a dynamite job with their quick minds and thumb!

This year the forensic squad was led by six experienced Seniors, Denise Deaton, Dana Dickinsen, Dan Moldenhauer, Mary Roles, Dawna Shong, and Rachel Solsrud. They started out in seventh grade, as the first Augusta Jr. High Forensic Squad coached by Ms. Hunter. These seniors have helped create the highly successful forensic program. This year, Augusta participated in five meets, they received a fifth place trophy at Eau Claire and a second place trophy at River Falls. Both competitions consisted of over 30 schools. Augusta also clinched Dairyland Conference trophy. We were confident throughout the season that the good times and memories would last a lifetime. And the honor of placing so highly among so many class "A" schools merits the forensics program as one of our schools finest.

Mrs. J. Rybak

The FHA chapter went through various changes this year. Due to illness, Mrs. Rybak took a leave of absence. Mrs. Forseth helped organize their Christmas carolling. The weather permitted an enjoyable experience. After the second semester, the FHA went under the supervision of Mrs. Meyer. In February, National FHA week was sponsored. Various contests were held, involving the whole student body. They also sponsored a carnival. New fund raisers provided pleasant results. In April, the State FHA convention in La Crosse, Wisconsin, centered around the 1981-82 theme, "Youth Energy Unlimited Potential." The convention provided many enlightening ideas. The year ended with their annual trip of choice.

The FHA would like to recognize Mrs. Rybak for her efforts throughout the years. Her creative wit and personality made FHA the organization we are all proud to be a part of. Thank you, Mrs. Rybak, for everything.

The FFA has been active in various exciting activities. One outstanding event was competition at the 1981 National Convention in Kansas City, of Meat Animal Judging Team consisting of Steve Ball, Mitch Dickinsen and Carl Sudbrink. Others attending were Jason Wiese, Marvin Schwoch, and Richard Setzer. The dairy sales and Ag. Business Management teams also had successful seasons competing in county and state contests.

The Parliamentary Procedure team competed at district competition December 9 and placed 2.

The FFA had their annual fruit sale in November and their corn for polio drive last winter.

The acquisition of a new advisor, Mr. Tremaine, brought several changes to the FFA program. The class of '82 wants to thank Mr. Tremaine for the dedication and guidance he has given the FFA throughout the year.

At the beginning of the year, the Photo Club went to the Renaissance Fair in Minnesota. They had fun taking creative pictures; it was a great learning experience. They also had a year-round button sale, which was successful. Throughout the year under the direction of Sue D'Angelo, the small group slowly learned the fundamentals of photography.

Though the school spirit had been dwindling, Mr. Voss, Mr. Ganrude and the Pep Club breathed new life into the school spirit. The Pep Club provided a very successful homecoming. They also willingly organized and ran the Parent's Nights.

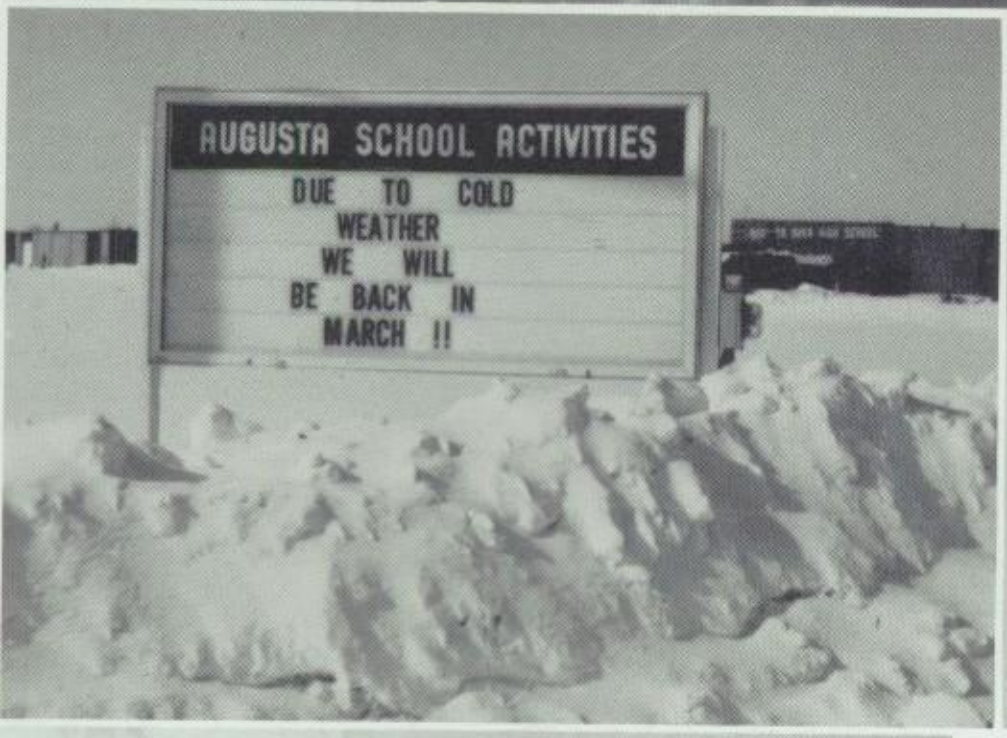
"What's New in '82"



A lot of new things happened in school this year. After waiting for over a year to acquire the proper location for the backing of the student council sponsored freedom shrine, we finally saw the erection of this historical memorial. Another informational project involved the sign in front of our school which tells townspeople of coming events in our high school. Events involving the townspeople included a variety show last fall and a musical this spring which both proved to be huge successes. The variety show, "Pzazz," showed off a lot of local talent and was one of the highlights of Augusta's fall.

To intrigue the mind, we had two noteworthy developments, a Rubic's Cube Contest and a college course offered by Mt. Senario for advanced Seniors. The course was psychology and the members seemed to enjoy their taste of college material. The Rubic's Cube Contest was sponsored by the Jr. High Student Council and was a lot of fun for the kids who have mastered the cube, especially John Hondal.

The school year of 81-82 saw a lot of important accomplishments in both extracurricular and scholastic areas, hopefully next years students will be offered the same opportunities to enrich their education!
